

PsyMetrics

What is it?

Bioss SA distributes several online, simple, cost and time effective psychometric and non-psychometric assessment tools that can be used to help organisations enhance their staff selection and development processes. All the assessment tools are available through a single portal that clients can access free of charge. The PsyMetrics Portal serves as a database of all assessment results, and also provides report generation and data analytics capability.

Bioss SA holds the African distributor license for PsyMetrics, which allows us to work with both partners and organisations throughout the continent.
